In the Beginning.

Our story begins over fifty years ago. Born and raised in regional Greece, founder Nick Kapernaros learnt at a young age about the traditional produce of Greece. Establishing a divine passion for olives, oil and Greek cheese, Nick traded with locals, ensuring that his family always had the finest that the village had to offer.

Our standards

We put quality before any other factor, ensuring this not only by our own success, but also that of our partners. Placing emphasis on using small traditional suppliers rather than large corporations, Lakonia Group aims to continue the message of those before it, the message of quality produce from the epicenter of the Mediterranean.

Lakonia - Λακωνία

The region of Lakonia, lies at the southeast end of the Peloponnese peninsula. With warm rocky hillsides and direct contact with the Aegean Sea provides optimal conditions for cultivating. Home to the ancient Spartans, olive cultivation in this area can be traced back to 1500 BC, and has been a vital part of Greek culture and the Mediterranean diet.

Maniatiko Extra Virgin Olive Oil

One of the best kept secrets of Greece are the olives extracted from Mani, the central peninsula of the three that extended from the Peloponnese in Southern Greece.

Grown on a rocky and mountainous terrain, and with the additional benefit of a unique blend of Mediterranean air and dry soils, the Maniatiko Olives retain less moisture, and a more powerful and flavoursome concentrate of oil in extracted. This has given the Maniatiko Extra Virgin Olive Oil a profuse, fresh, full bodied taste like no other. In essence, the Maniatiko Extra Virgin Olive Oil is the true scent of Greek Olive oil

ΕΛΛΗΝΙΚΟ ΠΡΟΪΟΝ
GREEK PRODUCT

Graviera of Crete is traditional Greek cheese with Controlled Denomination of Origin (DOC) which is exclusively manufactured in Crete from ewe's milk or mixtures with small quantities of goat's milk. Graviera of Crete is a high quality hard cheese of propionic fermentation with a slightly sweet taste and very pleasant organoleptic properties. It is consumed as table cheese. Graviera of Crete must contain moisture up to 38%, fat in dry matter at least 40% and salt not more than 2%.

The Greek Island Feta - Kalathaki Limnou

Traditionally made on the Island on Lemnos, owes its name to the production method itself of which Kalathaki" meaning small basket. The cheese maker puts, by hand, the curd mass into small baskets, where it takes its final shape.

Then submerged in brine, where the cheese is left to ripen for 60 days. While similar characteristics with Greek feta, Kalathaki Limnou has a distinctive creamy yet "zesty" flavour and a great alternative to normal Feta.

Greek Feta Lemnos

- 13kg
- 8x800g
- 12x400g

This is a cheese with a slightly salty and sour taste, produced solely from free ranging sheep's and goat's milk. The flora of the island and the microclimate, influenced by the sea breeze, give a special flavour to the milk and a particular 'character' to the final product.

Kaskavali Lemnos (Ladotyri)

- 12x800g

One of the oldest cheeses of Lemnos, Kaskavali is known to the shepherds of the island since the mediaeval times. The revitalization of the curd is a characteristic of the production process. In earlier times, the drying process was traditionally held during the months after May. The cheese heads were placed in wooden crates with strainer and were left to dry in the shade, usually under trees, at a temperature above 22°C. It is a light-yellow hard cheese, made from local sheep and goat milk, standing out for its sharp aromatic character, but also for its milky, savoury notes.

Melichloro Cheese

- 18x400g

Made from fresh sheep and goat milk, Melichloro is a hard cheese with richer and more complex flavours. Holding dear to traditional production and maturing methods (in dark rooms of low humidity levels) along with knowledge and thorough quality controls, HRYSAFIS Dairy produces a cheese that captures all the scents of herbs and wild flowers of the island. grating over pastas and vegetables Slightly pan-fried (Saganaki) with spicy fig jam
